This week-

We end another firm futures week on both corn and beans. Soybean meal is currently leading the soy complex with $11.31 in line with November 2026 bean future contract highs. Meanwhile, the EPA program has made its way to the White House for final approval. South American weather is a hot topic as Northern Brazil gets some rain that may affect quality. However, Chinese buying of additional US bushels is also still on the radar. Basis has officially rolled from March to May futures on corn and beans and is steady as many have fulfilled their volumes earlier this month. Call us to talk bin bushels or new crop.

Last week-

The soybean market remains steady at the notion China will keep buying old crop. That being said, other soybean importers have a hefty price incentive to buy from Brazil as they continue into their harvest season. The corn market remains steady if not stagnant. The USDA outlook conference published 26/27 corn acres estimated at 94 mil (down 4.8 mil vs 2025). Combined corn, beans, and wheat acres are currently 224 mil vs 225.3 last year. Nearby basis at the river remains firm, call us to talk bin bushels or new crop.

*Let's discuss a plan for your bin bushels. Give us a call we can pick up grain at your bins.

****FGT average rebate over 56 years is .121 per bushel.
