This week-

The Prospective Planting Report will release 3/31, average guess is 94.4 mil acres of corn and 86.5 mil acres of beans. Trump and Xi have rescheduled their April meeting for May 14-15, bringing renewed hope that China will buy more US soybeans. Markets remain focused on the Middle East and the possibility of resolution discussions. Crude oil dropped below $90 on Monday but is back up to $93 on Thursday's close. Fuel prices impacting freight cost continues to be a deciding factor on basis prices on old and new crop bushels.

Farmers Grain and the CBOT will be closed Friday, April 3rd, for Good Friday. Call us to talk old crop or new crop today.

Last week-

Corn and bean futures have bounced back a bit after their big hit on Monday. The White House meets Wednesday, March 25, to announce the biodiesel program. The conflict in the Middle East continues to be the center of the conversation, impacting fuel and fertilizer, therefore, impacting everything else. With that in mind, basis levels are looking to freight movements for indication of what to do next. Crude oil steady this week, hovering around $95. Over the next 10 days, the US expected to have dry weather with extreme heat after some freezing temps earlier this week in the Midwest and the South. Prospective planting report will release 3/31. Call us to talk bin bushels or new crop.

*Let's discuss a plan for your bin bushels. Give us a call we can pick up grain at your bins.

FGT average rebate over 56 years is .121 per bushel.
